

Tailored customer support.

We're here to help you identify and support vulnerable customers.

In support of the FCA's guidance for firms on fair treatment of vulnerable customers, here are just a few examples of what we offer and what to look out for when identifying someone who may be vulnerable. We're here to support you, and your customers, during the application process as well as throughout the entire mortgage journey.

- redundancy.

We can provide support for customers during difficult times.

How can we help?

Customers can become vulnerable at any time, whether through ill health, disability or a change to personal circumstances. Extra support may be temporary or permanent and could include adapting how we communicate or signposting to our special services.

Let us know if your customer may need some extra help to access or understand our products and services during the application process. Here's what you need to do:

Visit intermediary.tsb.co.uk for our regional helpline numbers.

- Our telephony teams are specially trained and here to listen and provide sensitive guidance and support for customers.
- We'll use this information to ensure tailored support is made available.
- Customers can contact our Mortgage Servicing Team anytime over the life-time of their mortgage. They'll continue to get the help they need from us to make things easier beyond the application stage.

You must have explicit proof of consent from your customer to share this information with us.
